The Russian people have long been a people of the future. They have always been looking ahead, and they have always been looking for a better way of life. They have always been looking for a way to improve their lives, and they have always been looking for a way to make their country a better place. They have always been looking for a way to make their country a better place, and they have always been looking for a way to make their country a better place.

INVITATION

Historical background of our country:

Before the 80's end here was the system of socialism and communism. We lived without all the West's goods (hamburger, compies, movies etc.). All the factories, shops and everything which is in contact with money were in the hand of the state. The food and clothes were made in Eastern countries, but they were cheap. Hundreds of thousands had to march in the May Day procession cheering the socialist party and its leading persons. The teenagers had to wear blue and red ties and had to learn Russian language and they were named to pioneers. But the leading party could not stop the news about the West, and people wanted to change their lifeform for the West's. The opposition became more and more popular. Fortunately the changes acted slow, but peacefully. Now, we can buy computers, hamburgers, go to watch an american movie in the cinema, but the other and more important goods, like food and clothes have too high prices. We should turn back into the scene of computers.

The real beginning is ca. 1988. Till now lot of groups have been formed, released tons of their demos, mags and games published by the leading software houses. Some of ours are on the top places of the diskmags' charts with their productions.
